UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT JAMES L. BROWN

Kansas State Command Chief Master Sergeant James L. Brown is the 20th Chief Master Sergeant appointed to this senior enlisted position, and as such, provides direction for the enlisted force and represents their interests at all levels of local and state government and to the Kansas public. He serves as the personal advisor to the Kansas Adjutant General and the Commanders of the Kansas Air National Guard on all issues regarding the professional development, readiness, training, utilization, health, morale, and welfare of the nearly 2,000 enlisted members of the Kansas Air National Guard. Chief Brown currently serves as the Vice Chairman on the Air National Guard's Enlisted Field Advisory Council (EFAC) and is a member of numerous other advisory councils and promotion boards.

Chief Brown entered the Air Force in August of 1985. Upon his separation from the Air Force in 1990, he enlisted in the Kansas Air National Guard. His military background includes numerous leadership roles at squadron, group, deployed command, Joint Forces Headquarter levels, and with the joint National Guard and Kansas State Partnership Program. Chief Brown previously served as the Region 2 Primary Coordinator on the Air National Guard's Enlisted Field Advisory Council. He is the recipient of numerous awards and decorations for leadership, distinctive accomplishments in support of Security Forces activities world-wide, and for joint civil-military operations.
